Church of the Open Bible Completes Organization

The Church of the Open Bible which meets at the Universalist Church recently held a meeting to complete its organization as an independent church by incorporating under the state law.

A constitution has been adopted and officers elected as follows: Trustees, H. Fenton Robertson, Mrs. Eva Browne, Robert Billings; Elder, Dr. G. L. Kneeland; Treasurer, H. F. Robertson; Clerk, Mrs. Jane Kneeland.

Carl Mores, a graduate of Gordon College, who has been pastor of the church through the past school year, is continuing his ministry.

August 23-28, "Youth in One Accord," a gospel team from Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y., will hold meetings at the church and conduct a Vacation Bible School in the mornings.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Haines of Bethel announce the engagement of their daughter, Nina May, to Thomas S. Smith, son of Samuel T. and the late Mrs. Smith, also of Bethel. A Fall wedding is planned.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

This year the Goodall Tree Company of Portland was employed to do the tree trimming. All the maple trees in Kimball Park were trimmed of dead wood. One maple in front of the residence of Elgin Tibbets was removed due to poor condition. One large elm at the intersection of Park and Church streets was trimmed as well as several on Railroad Street and Lower Elm Street. A number of large elms on the easterly side of Paradise Street also were trimmed. The company employed this year has an understanding with the Central Maine Power Company that any trees located on the same side of the street as the power lines that the power company will share the expenses on a fifty-fifty basis. This enables the town to get more coverage with the same amount of money available as in the past.

At the annual town meeting $400.00 was appropriated for White Pine Blister Rust Control, to be matched by the state, making $800.00 available. This work is currently in progress under the direction of Bryant Bean.

Samples were recently taken from an elm tree located on the property of Gladys Johnson and sent to the Maine Forest Service for analysis. A report received this week states that the tree has Dutch Elm Disease. This is the third year in succession that an elm has been located in West Bethel with Dutch Elm Disease.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Republican County Comm. Backs Hastings' Candidacy

Charles Aleck, Jr., chairman of the Oxford County Republican Committee, reported that at a meeting of the Committee held at South Paris, on Thursday evening, the 21st of this month, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Whereas David B. Hastings, Republican candidate for County Attorney of Oxford County, has been convicted of a violation of the Fish & Game Laws and has paid the penalty; and whereas he has offered to withdraw his candidacy; we believe him, nevertheless, to be eminently qualified for the office which he seeks, and in which he has served one previous term with credit, to the Republican Party and the State of Maine; and believing further that he has suffered enough for this said misdemeanor and that no useful purpose would be served by accepting his offer to withdraw, we hereby refuse to accept the same and on the contrary, pledge ourselves to give him our full and hearty support, believing that if all persons holding office or running for office in this State who have committed like violations of our Fish & Game or Highway Laws or other misdemeanor were considered unfit to hold office, the State would suffer the most in being deprived of many of its leading citizens and dedicated public officials."

Mr. Aleck also stated that as far as the County Committee was concerned, the incident was considered closed.

Multitude Enjoys "Mollycokett Day"

Mrs. Dexter Stowell, President of the Bethel Health and Service Council, today expressed the appreciation of the Council to Vance Richardson, his committee, and the many organizations which made the 1960 Mollycokett Day an outstanding success.

The year's event grossed $875 with the following events reported to date: car wash; grabs; hot dogs; coffee and donuts; papoose reservation; Bethel Inn guests; pop corn; pitch to win; soft drinks; fancy articles; supper; pond lilies; art exhibit; flowers; candy; auction. Others please turn in accounts to the treasurer, Kimball Ames, so that a final report can be rendered.

The highlight of the day was the Grand Parade led by the 1960 Miss Mollycokett, Grace Haines, and Sally Ann Robinson, Miss Maine of 1960.

Winners in the Float Contest were: first prize, Bethel Spa; second prize, Ernest Angevine Welding Shop; third prize, Hanover Dowel Company; with honorable mention going to the Red Rooster Motel and Carter Equipment Co. Other floats participating were Brooks Bros., Tom Yates' Flying "A" Service Station, Chevron Service Station, Bennett's Garage, Bob Brooks, Luce Oil Company, Steve's Garage, Treemakers, Chapin's Service Station, Alvin and Dale Stevens, Newton & Tebbets, Douglass' Float, Favreau Furniture Stock, Susan Farrar School of the Dance.

In addition to the floats, the parade included a walking contingent of costumed participants with prizes being awarded as follows: First prize to Barbara Bane for her portrayal of Theda Bara; second prize, "Dutch Girls," Cindy Hastings; and Bonnie Mills; third prize, "Ballet Dancer," Karen Brown. Special prizes went to Sally Rice and Brenda Robertson for their entry, "Surrey, Excuse My Dust," and to Sam Eames for his "Duck on the Bicycle" entry.

Besides accompanying the parade the band concert was enjoyed by all and Mr. Owen should be complimented for organizing it and the players thanked for participating.

The food hampers presented by the Lions Club went to Miss Alice Ballard and Timothy Hutchins, and a ham was won by Miss Nancy Goodale of Manchester, Maine. The day was highlighted by special events not the least of which was the Papoose Reservation, and particularly popular was the art show held in Miss Alice Capen's barn, the use of which is appreciated.

Some of the proceeds of this year's event will be considered by the Bethel Health and Service Council towards furthering the idea of a Dental Clinic. Owners of pie plates can recover them from Mary Rice.

MAGAZINE CALLS PHONY HEALTH ADS 1960'S MOST DANGEROUS RACKET

Deceptive drug, device and cosmetic advertising leads the parade of 1960's most dangerous phony deals, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

The current issue of the magazine lists the ten top frauds of the year, and describes various other schemes in which the public is bilked of its money.

Following the health rackets, the other nine, in order of the number of complaints received by the National Better Business Bureau, are: questionable franchise deals, especially in vending machines; mail-order sales of dubious gadgets and garden supplies; unscrupulous money-at-home schemes; high-pressure home-improvement schemes; fictitious list and comparative prices; bait and switch; especially in charitable appeals; telephone sales of doubtful securities; photographic schemes.

Among the health rackets, the article lists the following as some of the worst offenders:

Weight reducers—falsely advertised pills and gadgets which promise everything from curing off pounds to selective reshaping of specific body areas.

Baldness preventatives; lip-o-de drugs, massages and costly "treatments."

Famous cure powders and cures that can be dangerous, disease treatments that play on people's superstitions, "herbals" sold by quacks.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK JULY 24-30

July 24 through July 30 is National Farm Safety Week.

Briefly, it's a week when we are reminded of our big farm accident toll. And we are probably more careful in how we operate equipment than at any other time during the year. But Mardis R. Warner, Cooperative Extension engineer at the University of Maine, says the week is more than a time to be careful. It is a reminder that we need to check safety 52 weeks of every year.

Few things are more tragic, Warner says, than a severe farm accident. We know that accidents just don't happen. They are caused. And once a tractor tips, it's usually too late for a remedy. Especially tragic is the death or maiming of a youngster caused by riding the tractor while it's in operation.

Warner believes this might well be the first rule for tractor operation. That is, keep boys and girls off both tractor and equipment.

There are some other good rules, one being to always hitch to the drawbar. High hitches, such as to the axle, cause the tractor to tip. And when it tips, there is no chance to jump. A tipping tractor is on its back, usually with tragic results to the operator, in a split second.

Also, never refuel a tractor while the motor is running, or when it's extremely hot. Fumes from gasoline may ignite instantly. Keep power shields in place. A hurried or busy operator doesn't have time to be dodging a rotating power take-off.

In short, Warner says, be on hand for next year's National Farm Safety Week, by using care in operating a tractor this coming season.

aid, phony nostrums and ineffective treatment centers and devices, such as vibrating machines, which have been used to victimize five million sufferers, and "glorified aspirin" medications whose beneficial effects are questionable.

The editors advise home owners to be on guard against promotion of underpriced bulbs or "astonishing new strains and varieties" of flowers labelled with pseudo-scientific names meaning absolutely nothing. A classic example, they state, is the "Atlantus Tree" or "Tree of Heaven," advertised as "the most incredible shade tree on this planet" but actually, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a "relatively short-lived" tree that "provides little shade from its thin, lanky crown."

A currently thriving market the article notes, derives from the get-rich-quick lure of the vending machines. A good vending machine route can net 30% or 40% profit of the gross take, according to the editors. An exceptionally well run and profitable route can net as much as 100%, but that's rare. The editors in the business ignore these figures, and in extravagant prose promise that "the vending machine may be 300% or 400%." They dupes the elderly

Scouts Spend Week at Camp Bomazeen

Twelve Boy Scouts of Troop 165 camped in tents on Knob Hill campsite for the week of July 17 to 24. Showers started early Monday morning and continued off and on through Wednesday morning, after which fair weather prevailed.

Several boys had completed their Second Class requirements before going to camp. During the week in camp Roland Morin, Jerry Nowlin, Dickie Paine, Michael and Warren Tibbets, and Michael Wheeler, completed from one to six steps needed for Second Class rank. They also completed in part or in full certain cooking and camping steps for First Class rank.

Jack Brooks, Franklin Flinders, Michael Jenkins, Eric Paul, Charlie Runnels, Bobby Saunders, completed in part or fully these same steps towards First Class.

There were two or more swimming periods each day, under expert supervision, and instruction in boating and canoeing was also given.

Thursday after lunch the troop took food and blankets for an overnight trip by boat to Oak Island. After a few minutes in the boats, however, fall under the watchful eyes of the Waterfront Director, Oakie O'Connell, and Assistant Fred Lincoln we all recognized that the wind was too strong to permit making the trip safely. So instead of going by boat we went by foot to a nearby Explorer campsite — and cooked outdoors, and slept under the stars. This will count as one night of camping towards the First Class Camping Merit Badge.

Each unit cooked over their own camp fires all day Saturday, and breakfast on Sunday. Regular daily swimming programs continued, but Saturday afternoon an Adventure Trail was set up wherein each Patrol had a chance to compete with a Patrol from other units in eight scouting skills. These included Observation, Fire Building, First Aid, and other steps. Our Swimmer and Falcon Patrols did not win any prizes, but did learn how easy it is to forget their Knots, First Aid, and other requirements, when not practiced regularly.

Participation in the Jubilee Camporee program made it possible for each scout to earn the special Jubilee Camporee patch to wear on his uniform. These awards were made Sunday afternoon after the Retreat Ceremony.

To the parents—Thanks for helping in transportation to and from camp.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

NIGHT BALLET

On warm summer evenings when Night's curtain has closed off fields and hills, the fireflies stage their red-gold ballet against the darkness. They may dance close to the lawn or perform glowing movements high in the air. They may dance in close formation; they may separate and fling themselves away in whirling, angular flights. The red lines glow and fade in the darkness.

Fireflies breed near the ground surface and enjoy damp weather. Scientists have studied the light phenomenon for many years and still do not agree on the cause of the luminescence. There is a bright glow of light but no heat from this beetle of the family Lampyridae, a Greek word meaning and the people of limited savings with assurances that they can't lose, that an $800 dollar investment may produce $200 a month, and that only a few hours of work a week are required to enjoy such rich pickings. This, according to the article, is an empty promise.

In warnings of these and other rackets and frauds, the magazine points out that local steps have been and are being taken to curb such practices.

But these steps, the editors point out, come to naught without the assistance of one irrev-

"bright." Some 1500 species of fireflies have been identified. Chemists tell us the light comes from a substance known as luciferin.

Technicalities are not important on peaceful summer evenings when one sits on a farm porch and watches the dance in the darkness. As dusk deepens, the first tentative, colored lines are etched against the deepening dusk. Then by the dozens, other members of the ballet join the dance.

The night ballet is one of summer's appealing sights. On a quiet evening, moths flutter against the screen and whippersnappers call from the pasture fence. In the black velvet of the sky, stars twinkle their lights to the lights below. The street lamps of the sky signal to manmade lights on earth, and the night ballet of the fireflies blends with both.

placeable cog in enforcement machinery—the public. Unless people take the time to ask questions and investigate, the fraud artists will have another big year, at the expense of the public and the great majority of business men who are honest.

Keep hurry hazards off the highway. Watch especially for such dangerous tendencies as: excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, failure to yield right of way, and following too closely.

TODAY'S Meditation

Thursday, July 28

Read Luke 15:11-20. When he (the prodigal son) was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. (Luke 15:20).

As our train pulled into the station, I offered some help to the man across the aisle from me. I carried one of his heavy bags. As we left the coach and were walking into the station, I heard him say, "I wonder if my son will know me."

Then the father told me that he had been away for a while and he was wondering if his little son, eighteen months old, would know him.

We walked on. Suddenly, the man's steps quickened. He exclaimed, "He knows me!" Sure enough, there was the little fellow. He was standing in his go-cart. His arms were eagerly outstretched, and he was shouting, "Daddy! Daddy!" Jesus gave us word pictures of the heavenly Father. From them we know that the great heart of God must beat with quickened joy when He sees our attention fixed upon Him, and our hearts lifted in adoration, saying "Father."

PRAYER: Our Father, how grateful we are for Thine eternal concern for us. May we bring gladness to Thy loving heart by the evidences of our child-like trust in Thee and our adoration of Thee. In the name of Jesus, Thy Son and our Saviour. Amen.

V. A. NEWS LETTER
Veterans in good health and under 60 who hold World War II GI life insurance may add a total disability income rider to their GI policies at a small additional premium cost.

Dr. Joseph Weltman, manager of the Veterans Administration Center in Togus, explained this GI insurance benefit recently in response to numerous queries.

He said policyholders who become totally disabled from any cause before age 60 and while their rider is in effect, will receive an income of $10.00 per month for each $1,000 face amount of their GI policies.

Payments under the rider begin after the total disability has existed for six consecutive months, and continues for the duration of the disability, regardless of its length.

No payment may be made for disabilities incurred after age 60, and no premium charge is made for this benefit after that date.

If the veteran is in good health and under age 60, the rider may be attached to any NSLI policy, except for a limited number sold to service-disabled veterans since April 1951.

Although a physical examination is required of those whose age at their nearest birthday is 41 or more, Dr. Weltman pointed out that these policyholders may be examined by local physicians, provided VA medical application forms are used.

Dr. Weltman said that the premium cost of the rider varies according to policyholder's age, type of policy, and its face amount. Information and application forms are available at any VA office.

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr.
Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana.
"With my precious truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. . . . I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too;
get in more trips a day, make more money.
These facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups.
Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

"I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."
